I.P.R. POLICY

1. To organize and conduct different programs in the college on intellectual property rights (IPR) in order to generate awareness and encourage understanding among students and faculty.

2. To organize expert lectures on IPR by professionals from various departments of the college, providing valuable insights and knowledge about intellectual property laws and practices.

3. To generate practical knowledge on IPR through workshops and seminars in the college, allowing students and faculty to learn about the importance of intellectual property and its impact on innovation and creativity. This could also include activities to celebrate International Intellectual Property Day on April 26th and conduct special programs related to IPR awareness.

4. To actively engage students in creative activities and make them aware of the processes and rules of IPR. This can involve organizing competitions, projects, or initiatives where students can showcase their innovative ideas and understand the significance of protecting intellectual property.

By implementing these policies, the college aims to foster an environment that promotes awareness and understanding of intellectual property rights, encourages innovation and creativity, and prepares students to navigate the field of IPR effectively.
